The Ideas for this book were drawn, in part, from the newsletters authored by Mary Baratta-Lorton for the Center for Innovation in Education from 1975 through 1978. It is from the compilation of these newsletters this book takes its name.

The Center for Innovation in Education wishes to thank the many classroom teachers and Center instructors who have so generously shared their Math Their Way experiences with Mary and with us through the years. This Summary Newsletter is for you and from you.
